

NACCP News

October 14, 2009

Welcome to this issue of the NACCP News, a weekly email newsletter, providing you with tips and information that will help you be the best early childhood leader you can be. Enjoy!

This week's NACCP News features:

The new NAC Accreditation Manual has undergone revisions making it the total accreditation process in one package, read more....

A Roundtable Discussion with Experts for an H1N1 Plan for Child Care Professionals is now playing on NACCP Radio for Providers, to listen...

Say Boo to the Flu! Families Fighting Flu has teamed up with the Visiting Nurse Associations of American and the Clorox Company to help families say "boo!" to the flu this season, read more...

Mark Your Calendars! NACCP launches the first of a Leadership Institute Series, November 5th in Austin, Texas, to learn more...

Enrollment in the NAC Self-study process is available at the current rate of $350 for a limited time, to learn more...

Please click here to read this week's NACCP News.

Have a great week!

Cory Whipple

Marketing Coordinator

The National Association of Child Care Professionals

To unsubscribe from NACCP's Blast Email list, click on the following link (<http://m360.nacpp.org/frontend/portal/Main.aspx>), log into your member profile and check the Remove From Blast Email box.

National Association of Child Care Professionals
7608 Hwy. 71 West, Ste. E
Austin, TX 78735